NOTES:

Meet Bella, a charming poodle looking for a dedicated family ready to help her settle into home life. She may need a little support with potty training as she learns the routine, so patience and consistency will go a long way in helping her succeed. Bella also isn't shy about using her voice, making her a great match for adopters who don't mind a vocal companion. With the right guidance and commitment, Bella will blossom into a loving and loyal member of the family.
