Notes:

Between the teeth and the ears, it's no secret how this boxer babe got her name. Looks aren't all this girl has going for her – she's packed with silly-goose personality that's sure to keep you entertained, and she's potty trained. With some sun to lounge in and some lizards to chase, Bunnie would love to be your new companion. If you're looking for an experienced new friend to welcome into your home, ask about Bunnie today!
