NOTES:

Meet Cheekz, a sweet and shy boy who's just waiting for the right environment to help him feel safe and included. He'll do best in a quiet home with an adopter who understands the importance of starting things on the right foot and allowing trust to grow naturally. With patience, consistency, and gentle encouragement, Cheekz will slowly come out of his shell and show what a loving companion he can be. If you're ready to welcome a cat who just needs a little time to truly belong, Cheekz is ready to meet you.
