NOTES:

Coach Cappy may only weigh 15 pounds, but he has the personality and energy of a dog twice his size! This zesty little terrier is full of life, loves to use his voice, and is always ready to keep things interesting. Coach Cappy was previously adopted but returned because he wasn't fully potty trained, so he'll need a family that is patient, consistent, and understands that progress takes time. He'll do best with adopters who are familiar with the terrier breed, can adjust their expectations to meet his needs in the moment, and don't mind a dog who enjoys barking. If you're looking for a spirited companion with a big personality and are ready to embrace everything that makes terriers so lovable, Coach Cappy may be the perfect match for you.
