NOTES:

Diddly Squat is a lovable Bulldog mix who is ready to find a family willing to give her the fresh start she deserves. She would do best with adopters who are familiar with bulldogs or similar breeds and understand their unique personalities and care needs. Diddly Squat is still learning her leash manners and will benefit from patience, consistency, and positive reinforcement as she continues to build her skills. If you don't mind giving a little extra TLC to a dog who's ready for a second chance at life, Diddly Squat just might be the perfect companion. She can't wait to trade shelter life for a loving home of her own.
