NOTES:

Meet Marge, a sweet and social girl who truly loves being where the people are. She thrives on companionship and enjoys spending her time close to those she trusts. Being left alone at the shelter has been hard for her, so Marge will do best with a family that can offer patience, consistency, and plenty of reassurance as she settles into home life. With the right support, this affectionate girl is sure to become a devoted and loving companion. We think Marge would do best with a confident and playful dog in the home to keep her company. If you think that could be you, submit an application to meet Marge today!
