NOTES:

Norma Jean may have had a difficult start in life, but this sweet girl is already on the road to a brighter future. She can be nervous around new people and in unfamiliar environments, so she is looking for a patient family that will allow her to settle in at her own pace. Providing her with structure, consistency, and a quiet space to decompress will help Norma Jean feel safe and build confidence in her new surroundings. With time, gentle encouragement, and plenty of love, she is sure to continue blossoming. If you're ready to give a deserving cat the fresh start she's been waiting for, Norma Jean may be the perfect match.
