Notes:

Meet Selck, an undercover lapdog on a mission to find a partner in crime. He's shy at first glance, but once you earn his trust, he's a certified cuddle champion and your ultimate Netflix binge buddy. Selck can get easily overwhelmed and will need a patient family to show him that things aren't so bad. His foster shares that he has made great strides in potty training and that he co-exists well with her senior dog. If you think that you could give Selck a chance, submit an application today!

Here are a few of my favorite things:
