NOTES:

Shania is a sweet, sensitive girl who is simply looking for a quiet place to land. Her timid nature can make her easy to overlook in the shelter, but behind that shyness is a deserving cat waiting for the chance to feel safe and secure. She will thrive with a patient family that can provide structure, consistency, and plenty of time to decompress as she transitions into home life. Allowing Shania to build trust and explore her new surroundings at her own pace will help her confidence grow. If you have a peaceful home and a little extra patience to give, Shania may be the companion you've been waiting for.
