NOTES:

Meet Spooder, a classic German Shepherd with all the intelligence, loyalty, and just a hint of shepherd-style drama. He loves making new friends and quickly bonds with his people, but saying goodbye isn't his favorite thing, so he may get a little vocal when feeling stressed or left behind. Spooder will do best with a family ready to provide structure, companionship, and outlets for both his brain and body. With the right guidance and reassurance, this devoted boy is ready to become someone's very best friend.
