NOTES:

Urschi is a lovely tuxedo lady who is looking for a patient family to help her settle into a home of her own. She can be a little shy at first, but with time, gentle encouragement, and a predictable routine, she has the potential to blossom. Urschi would benefit from a calm environment that provides the safety, stability, and consistency she needs as she transitions out of the shelter. Giving her time to decompress and adjust at her own pace will help her build confidence and feel secure. Urschi is ready for a fresh start with a family that will appreciate her gentle spirit.
